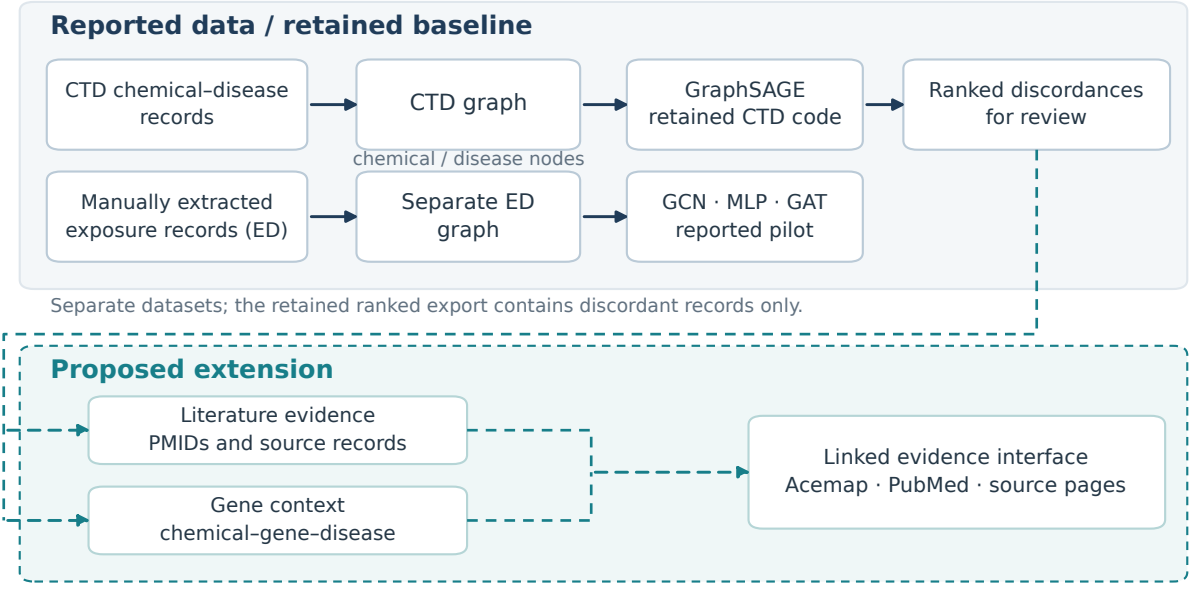
From association ranking to linked evidence

Conceptual workflow grounded in the available code and project specifications



The evidence interface remains proposed; gene paths provide context without establishing causality.